

Teenagers guilty of beating victim to death behind Walton shop

SENSELESS ATTACK ON HOMELESS MAN

Report by Holly Rummens

THREE teenagers have been found guilty of beating a Liverpool man to death outside a supermarket on Walton Road.

Defendants, Simon Evans (14) Brandon Doran (14) and Connor Doran (16) were sighted on CCTV looking suspicious roaming the streets of Walton in the early hours of the morning before they murdered Kevin Bennett.

A full investigation was launched when police first discovered the assault behind Iceland, Walton Road, and within days had arrested the offenders.

Trying to cover their tracks the Doran brothers asked their mother, Linda Doran, 42, of Teulon Close, Walton, to provide a false alibi for their whereabouts. Linda Doran has now been sentenced to 31 months imprisonment.

She was described by Judge Goldstone as being a 'pathetic and tragic character.' Her eldest son Ryan Doran, 23 has recently been jailed for murdering an innocent man who he hit over the head with a beer bottle while drunk.

Simon Evans told his family he had only attacked Kevin because he posed a threat as he was armed with a brick and they were scared, which turned out to be a lie. Evans was described as a 'model pupil' before meeting the Doran brothers. He has now been detained for eight years.

'Leader of the pack' Connor Doran, who was 16 when Mr Bennett was attacked in the early hours of August 17 last year, was detained for a minimum of 12 years.

Brandon Doran was sentenced to 6 years as he didn't take part in the attack, however he did pose as a look-out while the 'brutal' attack took place on August 17.

All three suspects were seen taking rubber gloves from a petrol station forecourt, and checking each others clothes and shoes after the attack and then running away from the scene.

Judge Goldstone told the teenagers: "None of you come from an ideal home background. Yours, Connor and Brandon Doran, reveal a total lack of parental guidance, support and upbringing for which you, Linda Doran, bears a very heavy responsibility.

Simon Evens (14)

"Each of you, by mindless violence and your participation in it, have forfeited the right to enjoy in freedom the rest of your teenage years, and you, Connor Doran, your youth."

Acting Detective Inspector Cheryl Rhodes, who led the Merseyside Police investigation said: "Kevin was a harmless and vulnerable man who occasionally slept rough after a night at his local pub.

Living on the edge of a crisis

Report by
Ollie Cowan

OVER one million people in the North West are just one payslip away from being unable to pay for their home, a new report warns.

Two in five workers would not be able to pay their rent or mortgage for more than a month if they lost their jobs, the figures from Shelter show.

The YouGov survey of working adults who pay housing costs found that 1.1 million people could not pay rent or mortgage from their savings for more than a month.

Out of those people, 470,000 said that if they lost their jobs this April and couldn't secure a new one right away, they couldn't pay their rent or mortgage at all.

The figures are part of a nationwide survey, where more than 8 million workers are in the same situation.

Precarious

Families with children are in the most precarious situation of all. 43% could not pay for their home for more than a month, and nearly a quarter could not meet their payments at all.

Overall, 3.9 million British families may be just one pay check away from losing the family home.

Campbell Robb, Chief Executive of Shelter, told The Champion: "These figures paint an alarming picture of a nation where the buffer between having a home and potentially

One million people in the North West just one payslip away from being able to pay for their home, warns Shelter becoming homeless is a single pay check.

"The depth of the financial pressure and insecurity felt by people across the North West means that thousands are living on the edge of a crisis, only secure in their homes for a matter of weeks.

"At the same time, support for people who have lost their homes is being stripped away – it's easy to see why every fifteen minutes, another family in England finds themselves homeless.

"More and more people are coming to Shelter desperate for advice on how they can stay in their homes, and our services are straining to meet the demand.

"Anyone who can't meet the payments on their home should seek advice as a matter of urgency.

"Shelter can help advise anyone who is struggling to help prevent more people going through the devastation of losing their home."

Seasonal Park and Ride service open

Southport's seasonal park and ride service is open during weekends, school holidays and public holidays.

Kew Park and Ride is aimed at motorists from Maghull, Ormskirk, West Lancashire and beyond – and is based off the A570 at Foul Lane, near Kew roundabout.

At just £1.50 per car – per day, the facility is one of the cheapest in the country with frequent buses running into the town centre. It also boasts a modern visitor centre with indoor waiting area, toilets and baby changing facilities.

The service operates during weekends and school/public holidays until Sunday, September 29, 2013. When open, the operating hours are Monday to Saturday, 8.30am-6.30pm, and 10am-6.30pm on Sundays and Bank Holidays.

Further information on opening times and dates is available at www.visitseftonandwestlancs.co.uk

Kew Park and Ride has re-opened thanks to a successful bid for external funding from the Department for Transport's Local Sustainable Transport Fund. This is being delivered through the VISIT project – 'Visitors In Sustainable Integrated Transport.'

“Thanks to external, ring-fenced funding we are again able to open Kew Park and Ride to support the Southport visitor economy during peak periods. Southport is a very important tourism and shopping destination and this inevitably causes some traffic congestion at busier times. Kew Park and Ride reduces traffic in the resort and offers a cheaper and stress-free alternative to parking in the town centre. If people are travelling in along the A570 I would really encourage them to follow the signs and try out this excellent facility.”

'You're pathetic' Judge tells mother of two of guilty teens

Linda Doran

'Kevin's mother can now sit down and grieve knowing they have been put away'

He suffered such serious injuries to his head and body that, despite the best efforts of medics, he tragically died six days later in hospital.

"Thanks to the extensive CCTV coverage that we have in Liverpool, the investigation team could pinpoint the movements of the suspects in the minutes before the fatal assault on Kevin.

"The suffering Kevin endured before his death and the pain and heartbreak inflicted on his family can never be taken back. But I hope that the conviction and sentencing of these young men brings them a sense of closure and justice, and sends out a clear message that violence against vulnerable members of society is not tolerated by Merseyside Police and should not be tolerated by the communities we serve."

Speaking outside of court, Mr Bennett's cousin Angela Connerty, 49 said: "Justice has been done and that's all we wanted as a family.

"We've had justice for his mother, she can now sit down and grieve knowing they have been put away."

Reds and Blues come together for first Hillsborough service since 'truth report' published

Report by Holly Rummens

THE 24th annual memorial service of the Hillsborough disaster saw Merseyside's two top football teams come together and pay tribute to the 96 fans who never returned home.

Red and Blue scarves were intertwined on the Shankly gates as a sign of respect and remembrance, while chanting of the word 'Merseyside' echoed throughout Anfield.

Both Liverpool and Everton managers, Brendan Rodgers and David Moyes, stood shoulder to shoulder on The Kop awaiting the emotional reading from Everton chairman Bill Kenwright.

"I remember sitting there as a Everton fan back in 1989," said Bill Kenwright, referring to the semi final FA Cup against Norwich City.

"All of my mates gathered as the news came through and we felt like we had been relegated, we all knew people at Hillsborough and thought it could have been us if the balls had been drawn differently. It happened too tragically to you. I hope since that day you have known the support of Everton Football Club is there for you."

Bill continued: "I hope next year, on the 25th Anniversary you will be celebrating the greatest victory any team has ever had, not just in football, but in life. On behalf of Everton Football Club and our manager David Moyes, we salute you. The door is always open for you."

Liverpool Football club owner John W Henry flew in from America to attend the service for the first time and gave a brief reading saying: "I've been awed and humbled by the dignity and persistence of the families in their search for truth and justice. It's an honour to be here on this particular day, at the first service since the publication of the Hillsborough Independent Panel report.

"Now there is a real belief that justice will be served. The club will always cherish the memory of family and friends who were lost 24 years ago. They will forever be a part of Liverpool Football Club."

It took nine minutes to read all the 96 names of the victims who died at Hillsborough on April 15, 1989, which was followed by a minutes silence at 3:06pm, the time the match was abandoned.

Margret Aspinall of the Hillsborough Family Support group said: "This is not just about remembering the 96 but a celebration for getting the truth on September 12.

"It has taken 8,051 days and 395 pages to expose to the world what we all knew from day one. The fans were not to blame."

The memorial service was completed with 96 balloons being released into the sky.

A tribute in Sheffield will take place today (Wednesday).

Care hospice rewarded with £500k grant

WOODLANDS Hospice have received half a million pounds in Government funding to help improve its services.

The hospice which is based in Fazakerly, are looking to make alterations to the current day therapy building with the new funding going towards creating a suite of new therapy rooms, a rehabilitation and gym facility and a modern art room.

The £498,000 investment will improve the facilities for patients and visitors to ensure they can easily access the garden areas.

Rose Milnes, chief executive of Woodlands, said: "This is absolutely wonderful news. We are delighted to have been awarded this grant and are very excited to put our plans into operation as soon as possible.

"The changes to our building at this time will help to support the delivery of our redesigned day and out patient services in a modern environment and the creation of the café area will be a welcome new facility for all patients, families and visitors."

Although the hospice are thrilled with the grant, they still require £2,000 every day through fundraising and donations to help sustain their current services to patients and visitors from all across the North West.

Spread of grass fires sparks warning call

...and it's not even summer yet, folks!

by Stephanie O'Connor

MERSEYSIDE Fire & Rescue Service has issued fire safety guidance after firefighters attended more than 300 grass fires in the space of 12 days, including 68 in Sefton, over the Easter holiday.

With little rainfall in past weeks and the milder weather on the way, advice has been issued to people using our parkland areas.

There are simple steps people can take to reduce the chance of a grass fire.

MFRS are urging people to ensure cigarettes are extinguished properly and not to throw cigarette ends on the ground or out of vehicle windows.

According to the service, rubbish should be taken home and not left behind, especially glass bottles as they can magnify the sun's rays and start a fire.

And open fires should not be lit in parks and open spaces and should only be lit in safe designated areas.

Anyone who spots a grass fire is asked to report it immediately to

Merseyside Fire and Rescue Service tackle a grass fire on Merseyside Code NA

Merseyside Fire & Rescue Service.

People are urged not to tackle fires that can't be put out with a bucket of water.

MFRS also say to take caution when lighting barbecues, never use petrol as it can ignite quickly and soon get out of control.

Land owners and land managers are advised to ensure that fire breaks or gaps in vegetation are well maintained and that the grass is kept short and any rubbish is removed from the site.

MFRS Area Manager Myles Platt, said: "Firefighters have been called out to a number of accidental and deliberate grass fires.

"Deliberately starting fires on grassland and open spaces is arson and offenders will be prosecuted.

"If a fire appliance has to attend a grass fire that has been started deliberately it may delay the response to another emergency.

"Fires started on grassland near motorways and busy roads can cause smoke to drift across roads, creating a hazard for drivers.

"We want people to enjoy the parks and open spaces in Merseyside and to be as safe as possible from fire."

Fitting monument for Hillsborough victims

Report by Holly Rummens

A NEW monument has been unveiled in memory of the 96 lives that were lost during the Hillsborough disaster.

The sculpture is a 7ft drum shaped creation that has taken pride of place at the bottom of St John's garden near the corner of William Brown Street. It was unveiled on Sunday (April 14) – the day before the 24th anniversary of the tragedy.

Liverpool-based artist Tom Murphy is the mastermind behind the sculpture and has engraved the words – Hillsborough Disaster We will remember them – across the monument.

Tom said: "This monument is not intended as a replacement to the one at Anfield but it is a tribute to the city centre. It is about being a human being, it is about saying we have not forgotten you, we will remember you.

"It makes more sense when you look at it than when you explain it, it takes you to another dimension, a special place of remembrance."

Spokesperson Sheila Coleman, from the Hillsborough Justice Collective, said "It is a brilliant piece of artwork and will act as a fitting tribute to the memory of all those who died at Hillsborough but also to those who survived.

"I am glad it is in a central location because it is very much for the people of the city."

A special ceremony was also led by Mayor Joe Anderson revealing an antique clock showing the fatal time of 3.06pm which will be permanently displayed in the city centre's town hall as a lasting memory to those who lost their lives at the disaster.

Sefton Central Labour MP Bill Esterson attended both these memorial services.

He said: "The truth has now been officially recognised with the report of the independent panel and with the double apology from the Prime Minister.

"The families have campaigned long and hard to reach this point.

"I know that all those who have been involved in the campaign will continue to support them to make sure that justice is finally done."

Event offers chance for jobseekers to impress potential employers

Report by
Stephanie O'Connor

MORE than 500 young jobseekers from Bootle are being given an opportunity to meet with some of the region's leading employers at an employment event in Liverpool tomorrow (Thursday, April 18).

The Ingeus Mersey Futures event, which is being hosted by Work Programme provider Ingeus, will give some 2,500 young unemployed people from across the region the chance to promote themselves directly to local, regional and national employers who are actively seeking young talent.

More than 40 top employers will exhibit at the event at the Liverpool Arena and Convention Centre which will see guests visit each employer's stand to find out more about their business and the type of vacancies they have to offer.

The exhibitors at the event range from small businesses and charitable organisations to large international companies, and include Timpson's, Unilever, Mersey Fire and Rescue Service and the Princes Trust.

Dennis Philips, who runs the Timpson Foundation, said: "We are delighted to be attending the Ingeus Mersey Futures event.

"It not only provides a great opportunity for young unemployed people to meet a vast range of employers from across the region, but is also an opportunity for businesses like Timpson's to access a large pool of job-ready, motivated candidates for our vacancies".

Jordan Welsh from Bootle, is 20 and has been looking for long-term work for two years.

He said: "As a young person trying to find a job, this event is a brilliant opportunity for me to meet a lot of employers in person and I'm determined to make a good impression.

Committed

"When looking for work it's easy to become demotivated and get stuck in a rut. I hope this event will help me take the next step towards finding work."

Ingeus's North West regional director, Barry Fletcher added: "This event is the first of its kind in the North West.

"Never before have we brought together so many young jobseekers and businesses under one roof, and we are delighted that local employers are demonstrating their commitment to supporting young people in the region to find work.

"At Ingeus we are committed to continuing to find ways to build this link between people looking for work, and employers who want to recruit job-ready, motivated people."

Call to make St George's Day a bank holiday

CALLS for St George's Day to be declared a Bank Holiday have been renewed by Bootle politician Paul Nuttall.

The UKIP Member of European Parliament, who went to Hugh Baird College, said it would be fantastic if the general public made as much fuss about St George's Day as they do St Patrick's Day.

He also said that instead of Guinness, those celebrating could drink real ales to boost the English pub trade.

The UKIP deputy leader said: "It should not only be celebrated but marked as a national holiday. This is not the first time I have called for this but it would be nice to think it will be the last and my wish comes true soon.

"Every year a big fuss is made about St Patrick's Day and it would be fantastic if as much fuss was made about the patron saint of England.

"There has been an improvement in public recognition over the past few years but it is really still a very low-key event. It is clearly an ideal topic for an e-petition.

"We have far fewer public holidays in this country than many European countries and I believe it would be appropriate for one to be instituted for St George.

"I hope as many people as possible will show their support for St George by wearing a traditional red rose next Tuesday.

"Gallons of Guinness is downed on St Patrick's Day and no doubt the patriotic English could do the same on St George's Day with traditional real ales, which thanks to an increasing number of micro-breweries, are readily available. This in turn could help for our ailing pub industry."

Church plays host to special celebrations

SPECIAL celebrations have been held at St Monica's Roman Catholic Church in Bootle.

The Divine Mercy celebrations saw the congregation venerate first-class relics of Blessed John Paul II and Saint Faustina (a Polish saint).

The celebrations included Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament and Benediction, Recitation of the Chaplet of Divine Mercy, and ended with Holy Mass.

Organiser of the Fernhill Road event, Mary Fenerty, said: "Our parish priest, Father Patrick Sexton very kindly allowed the church to be used for this special day. This year, Father Severinus Ndugwa, who is currently studying for a doctorate in theology at Maynooth, Ireland, accepted the invitation to be the main concelebrant. A total of four priests helped with confession including Fathers Simpson, McAllister and Matthews.

"Some people had not been to confession for many years but found the experience relaxing and spiritually rewarding. It was wonderful for people to venerate both the relic of Blessed John Paul II and Saint Faustina." During the afternoon the congregation learned to sing 'Jezu ufam Tobie!' (Jesus, I trust in you!) in Polish.

New doorstep collection to replace free bin bags scheme

A BOOTLE resident has blasted Sefton Council's decision to no longer provide bin bags to houses that don't have wheelie bins calling it 'completely unfair'.

Carol Maddock contacted the Champion after she and her neighbours learned they would no longer be receiving the free bin bags.

She said: "We used to get two lots of bin bags twice a year. When we received the bags just before Christmas they didn't tell us this would be our last.

"One of my neighbours went to the One Stop Shop to get some more and she was told the council wouldn't be supplying them anymore.

"I think its completely unfair that just because we can't have wheelie bins we have to pay out for the bags.

"How much per household does it cost Sefton Council? It can't really be that much."

But Sefton Council said that a new system was set to be implemented and there was still a number of bin bags left that they would distribute to residents.

A spokesman for Sefton Council said: "To help the council cope with further significant reductions in government funding a budget decision was taken that we could no longer purchase and supply clear bin bags for homes that still have a weekly collection.

"However the council still has a limited stock of clear bags so, despite the budget saving, a final six-month supply of bags will be delivered to these homes in the next few weeks. This means people should have bags to last until December 2013 after which they will no longer be provided.

"At the same time these households will soon be able to recycle plastic and cardboard via a new doorstep collection following a successful bid for government funding. This service has been specifically targeted at the 14,000 homes that still have the weekly refuse collection and should reduce the amount of general waste.

"In the next few weeks these households will receive their last supply of clear bin bags, a new hessian sack for their plastic and cardboard and a letter explaining how the new service will work."

Forum to offer tips on boosting overseas trade

Report by Ollie Cowan

A SPECIAL conference looking at how local businesses can tap into overseas markets is taking place later this month as part of the 22nd Sefton Economic Forum.

The conference takes place at Aintree Racecourse on Wednesday, April 24 and will include a number of guest speakers and workshops on how businesses can access more customers home and abroad.

Leader of Sefton Council, Peter Dowd, said: "Events like these bring local businesses together to look at ways of tapping into new markets and sharing ideas together with experts in the field."

"Most businesses are always looking for new clients and with the global economy forecast to grow in 2013, now might be the time for your business to consider overseas markets as part of your growth strategy."

Growth

During the day, Max Steinberg, chief executive of Liverpool Vision, will also look at the International Festival for Business 2014 (IFB), which arrives in Liverpool next year. The festival is expected to attract more than 250,000 visitors from across the globe, and bring £100 million worth of investment.

Mr Steinberg said: "Hosting the IFB will mean a great deal to the UK and to the Liverpool city region."

"It is an opportunity to inspire more businesses to grow and to export and the chance to show the world what we have to offer."

"The festival will highlight the important role of major cities and city regions in driving economic growth, which is vital for Britain's recovery."

For more information on the event contact Julie Swarbrick on 0151 934 3441 or email julie.swarbrick@sefton.gov.uk.

Online system to beat VAT dodgers

A NEW online system to stop criminals evading VAT on road vehicles brought into the UK has been launched by HM Revenue & Customs.

The DVLA will be able to check HMRC's new online system to ensure the correct VAT has been secured on vehicles brought into the country before they are registered for use on UK roads.

VAT fraud from vehicles being brought into the UK costs the Exchequer around £110 million a year.

The new system will not only tackle this but also simplify the rules for legitimate users, making it easier to notify HMRC and register vehicles brought into the UK from abroad.

Sally Beggs, deputy director for VAT fraud at HMRC, told The Champion: "The new online collaborative system means people will get the green light from the DVLA only where their vehicle has been notified to HMRC for VAT purposes."

City farm can still thrive despite cuts

Report by Kenny Parker

STAFF at Rice Lane City Farm will continue to provide a taste of the rural life for city dwellers, despite facing funding cuts.

The popular Walton based attraction is losing two members of staff due to reduced funding from the city council but staff are looking at ways of increasing the centre's income so it continue to provide professional and recreational services to the community.

Farm manager Maria Hornsby says she is grateful the council has continued to support the centre in difficult economic times and added that they are looking at how to generate more income.

Apart from charitable donations the centre also gains income from farm produce such as growing and selling salad vegetables, which people can pick fresh for themselves and selling free range eggs.

They also sell organic and conventional vegetable boxes, sourced fresh from local farms, and grow and sell willow, some of which they use for basket-making on site.

The farm provides learning placements for children who have difficulties fitting into mainstream schools, and is also an educational facility for primary and secondary schools, and a safe environment for vulnerable adults to gain experience in gardening and livestock.

In addition to these there are various youth clubs, traditional rural craft groups, gardening training, and volunteering opportunities.

Development worker Steve Birch said: "We teach children as much as we can about livestock and we really see an improvement with them."

Often these children, who otherwise have been persistent truants from school will return to the farm when they've finished their program, to help out on a voluntary basis.

Development worker Steve Birch with a new-born lamb.

They provide a vital education for adults too. Referring to the chestnut coloured Red Poll cows he said: "Some people do not even know they are cows. We have had grown men ask if they are they horses!"

It was right to go for a better option to Sainsbury's proposal

Re: Crosby Village – Right to say no.

You cannot simply say 'no thanks' and walk away to petitions you don't want to sign.

Thankfully thousands didn't. Sefton Council, Conservative and Labour conducted polls showing in excess of 80% of respondents did not support the proposal.

It was also castigated by two independent reports.

Of course it was viable for Sainsbury's. It was the cheapest, quickest way to maximise profit which fits in to their corporate responsibility.

Most agree a considered development is required. Sadly, that was not the case previously and residents and partners were right to question its suitability and seek a better option. It's interesting to see other options were clearly available as recent developments show. We don't need one hypermarket providing an increased market share for one but no true regeneration.

What we need is all interested parties in dialogue, seeking investment, development and innovation with residents supporting our local stores where possible, Sainsbury's included.

In the meantime, if they have Crosby's interests at heart as implied, they will act responsibly, be open with their future plans and ensure their properties are well maintained with reasonable leases offered affording some level of certainty to businesses and residents alike.

MP should remember that private businesses create jobs

Another week, another shocking comment from Bill Esterson MP.

This time he is joined by Liam Robinson from Merseytravel.

Let me be clear on this, if Mr Esterson believes that Arriva is using a position of economic power to engage in profiteering at the expense of Merseyside commuters then his duty as a Merseyside MP is to bring his concerns forward and present the evidence, using parliamentary privilege if necessary.

As a Merseyside commuter, and simply as a citizen, I certainly would support any action to stop that practice.

However, if he doesn't know this is happening, then he should stop defaming hard working men and women.

I suspect, however, that he has undertaken no genuine research into Arriva's pricing arrangements. It's just another example of his antagonism towards private business.

Mr Esterson has form in this regard.

His behaviour, together with his little friends in the ABetterCrosby group, caused Sainsbury's to withdraw £50million of investment in this community, costing 100+ jobs.

As I have said before and am happy to keep saying, profit is good.

Private businesses have a legitimate interest in making profit.

Private businesses create jobs; Bill Esterson and his useless friends in ABetterCrosby destroy them.

I'll run a bank into the ground for a £16m pension pot!

The Government has completely lost touch with the British people.

The Chancellor George Osborne went to Europe lobbying, but not for a rebate for hard pressed British taxpayers or to enhance workers' rights.

At the time RBS posted record losses of £5billion, while simultaneously paying out £600million in bonuses, he was over there lobbying for something that we all care so deeply about, protecting banker's bonuses!

He was over there trying to stop a new European law which would cap banker's bonuses to no more than one years pay.

The argument he'll use is that if we cap their bonuses then London won't be able to recruit the brightest and best.

I'm going to apply for a job in the City because I guarantee I can run a bank into the ground every bit as quick as Fred Goodwin so long as I get to keep my £16million pension pot.

We need to debate what happens if Scots vote for independence

In less than two years, we will see the biggest shake in national "who-we-are-ness" when the voters of Scotland (only!) are given the right to vote for independence.

This appears to be an open ended question (judging by the wording of the ballot) since by interpretation, a 'yes' vote might be just as a vote for Scottish dissolution, not just its relationship with the rest of the UK, but also that with the EU, Nato and any other international arrangement they are presently tied into.

I wonder what legal position the Scots government and its people adopt if the two interpret the results differently?

What bothers me more though for us southern Brits, is that there is virtually no public discussion or debate south of the border as to what sort of post-independence country the present UK will become, our national flag, our nationality or even the official name of the country, since United Kingdom will clearly no longer be relevant.

Why is our political class simply ignoring the issue?

Assuming the Scots will vote 'no' is not a viable gameplan and belongs in the long line of disastrous political planning that British governments have mastered throughout our history.

As a country all of us have a right to know, not just those under the banner of St Andrew.

Mark Erickson-Rohrer, By email

Wind power will never deliver enough energy to keep us warm

Following on from David Atherton's comments about wind turbines I think it is pertinent to quote the figures issued by the National Grid for Monday, February 18 – 4,300 of those devices supplied 0.1% of our electricity during a cold spell, just when we need them to deliver what they promise.

The same happened during cold snowy weather in the winters of 2009/10 and 2010/11. On each occasion there has been high pressure with total calm or a gentle breeze.

Energy experts concede that the wind is the most expensive and unreliable method of producing mass electricity. We currently pay a supplement on our gas and electric bills to subsidise it.

Germany appears to have lost its faith in wind power for the above reasons and also sudden surges in the grid when conventional power stations are generating.

The upshot is that Germany has announced its plan to build 23 coal-fired power stations, and we are quibbling about upgrading half a dozen which will be clean-burn!

Hybrid buses offer a fine ride but just don't have soul

I TOOK half a day off this week – well kind of.

I went one of those trips which my fellow columnist David Simister would have called working while enjoying every minute of it. I was sampling the latest in hybrid technology in buses. For some time I have been tempted to have a ride on one of the hybrid midi-buses to be seen these days on the circular routes around my home town of Maghull.

I never have – partly because I have an in-built aversion to riding anywhere in Maghull instead of walking. It might be taken as a sign I was getting old – it might even be the cause of it if I took it up. But partly because I have never really accepted these 'little buses' as being quite pukka – if you see what I mean. Arriva have introduced a fleet of hybrid double-deckers onto its cross-river routes in Liverpool. So I ventured forth – and took the bus into town rather than the train.

I was lucky with that – the bus I got to Liverpool was one of Arriva's latest full-size diesel single deckers. Anyway, so it was that I stood at the stop in St Thomas Street and within a couple of minutes a shiny new hybrid 'decker going to West Kirby turned up.

The first thing you noticed was the total lack of engine noise as you boarded, and the almost eerie 'sound' – if that's the word – of just a very subdued electric whine as it pulled away.

Mind you, the small(ish) engine cut in almost immediately, but with no shudders, and apart from an almost imperceptible drop in speed just at that moment no fuss either.

The problem for me thought was that while the engine was running it sounded much like any old diesel bus to me, with the engine doing quite a bit of the work, though admittedly more economically.

It was bus stops that rather spoiled the whole thing for me though. Without knowing precisely how a large (12 tonne) hybrid works I can only presume that depending on the state of the battery at any given time, the engine either keeps on ticking over at a stop, or shuts down altogether.

When it did there was a considerable 'clunk', rather like someone throwing a very large circuit breaker – which I suppose it was, really.

The bus itself though was quite impressive, with good lighting and heating and 'real' leather seats. Very swish. Only trouble with those sets was though that leather though they certainly were, they also had very thin squabs so that after a 50 minute or so journey I was actually quite pleased to stand up again and relieve my backside.

I got the electric train back to Liverpool – and on to Maghull. And though Merseyrail trains have a sound repertoire of their own, at least they are quite obviously linked to compressors etc cutting in and out or the train controller 'notching up'.

One thing I never quite got used to on my bus ride into the future were the odd clicks and whirrings that punctuated the ride.

I was mightily impressed with the big hybrid. I couldn't fault its performance (though it had little chance to show any real pace on the open road).

But I'm afraid that, as a bus enthusiast for as long as I can remember, this vehicle somehow lacked 'soul'.

And I still wonder about any hybrid's 'green' credentials given the manufacture of the batteries – and their eventual disposal.

Having trouble with your Freeview TV channels?

It may be due to changes to your TV services on Wednesday 10 April.

Lost some of your channels?

First, make sure you have correctly retuned. Choose 'first time installation' or 'factory reset' to remove all the old channels and load the new ones (just selecting 'add channels' won't work).

Channels still missing?

If you've done that and are still missing channels, you may need to do a 'manual retune.'

Got the wrong regional channels after retuning?

Your preferred services are probably a bit further down the list of channels. You can add the channel to your 'favourites' list if your equipment has one.

Don't have a favourites option?

You will need to do a 'manual retune.' This will enable you to put your channels where you want them on the channel list.

How do I manual retune?

For more information or help go to digitaluk.co.uk/retuning or call 08456 50 50 50*

Surge in organ donor rate welcomed by hospital

Report by David Raven

TRUST members at a Liverpool hospital have welcomed news of a surge in organ donor success rates over the last five years.

The Governors and Foundation Trust (FT) members at Aintree University Hospital have played a key role in supporting organ donation, helping to sign up hundreds of new potential donors.

The NHS Blood and Transplant Service announced this week that the number of people donating organs after death has risen 50% since 2008.

More than 1,200 people in the UK donated their organs in the last year, leading to about 3,100 transplants.

FT members and Governors at Aintree have been key to the work of the hospital's organ donation committee.

They have chaired the hospital's organ donation committee and have joined specialist teams to run awareness events, as well as using newsletters to gain more members for the National Organ Donor Register.

The results have seen hundreds of extra staff, patients and visitors joining the National Organ Donor Register.

Pam Peel, a former FT Governor who now chairs the committee, said: "It's great that we're seeing so many successful organ donations. But this will only continue if we build up the numbers of people on the organ donor register."

"It's so simple to join, and now it only takes you a few minutes. Make sure that you tell your wishes to your loved ones – and if you have any questions then the national helpline can answer them all."

"We're sure that the news about this increase in successful organ transplants will attract thousands of more donors to the register. Organ and tissue donation can be done by anyone of any age."

"The gift of life – and quality of life – is the finest gift which you can give. If you've been thinking about it, then make that step today. It only takes a minute, but the benefits will last someone a lifetime."

To join the Organ Donor Register today then call 0300 123 23 23, text SAVE to 62323 or visit www.organdonation.nhs.uk

Champion Interview

Birds of a Feather star is all of a flutter at new role

BIRDS of a Feather star Pauline Quirke took time off from her hectic stage tour of the hit TV comedy to talk to the Champion's DANIELLE THOMPSON ahead of the show coming to the Liverpool Empire Theatre next month.

And Pauline has revealed that she has had to overcome stage fright to star in the new theatre production of Birds of a Feather and recalled her one and only visit to Southport.

She confessed on the Paul O'Grady talk show in 2007 that she suffered from severe stage fright and was very hesitant to appear on live shows.

She said: "I was worried about performing on stage but not worried enough not to do it; I wanted to prove to myself that I could do it."

"It is a really good script and it does not feel much different to doing it as a TV series. It feels the same to me, like the cast have never been apart."

"The biggest difference for me this time is that my son Charlie is joining the cast to play Travis."

by Danielle Thompson

The Birds of a Feather star has been reunited with cast members for the show at the Liverpool Empire Theatre from May 7 – May 11 2013.

The actress, 53, spoke about her excitement at visiting Liverpool and her sadness at why she visited Southport.

She said: "I filmed North and South near Liverpool but I was filming from 6am until I went to bed so I did not get to see any of it."

"I love shopping, I am hoping to get to see some of Liverpool this time and try out Liverpool One."

She revealed that the only time she has visited Southport was for the funeral of Emmerdale producer Gavin Blyth, who was from the resort but who tragically died of cancer aged just 41. "I have only been to Southport once, in 2010, but it was for Gavin's funeral," she said.

She revealed that ITV are in talks over potential plans to return Birds of a Feather to the TV for a tenth series.

The much-loved programme ran for nearly a decade, ending in 1998.

She said: "ITV are looking at it and they seem very keen."

She spoke about how much she loved having so many different choices as an actress.

She said: "I have worked on so many productions, I have been working for 45 years but I prefer to do comedies and dramas."

Pauline is also starring in the hit ITV drama Broadchurch.

"My character in Broadchurch, Susan, is horrible but I love the variety."

"I loved working on Emmerdale and The Sculptress (an adaption of a crime novel by Minette Walters, in which she plays a woman imprisoned for dismembering her mother and sister) was one of my favourites."

Fun event will help families of children with rare disorder

Report by David Raven

ADVENTUROUS readers can take part in an It's a Knockout event to make a dream come true for organisers of a local charity that helps people with a rare disorder.

Walking With Giants Foundation (WWGF) is a Maghull-based charity which offers global support to families and carers and helps to raise awareness and tackle barriers and prejudice of primordial dwarfism.

It was founded by Sue and John Connerty whose child Alex has the disorder and it has helped provide families with vital information.

Now the charity is looking for 18 teams to take part in an It's a Knockout event to raise funds to help transport families from around the UK to the biggest ever gathering of families affected by promordial dwarfism which is taking place in US capital Washington DC. Sue said: "We have connected with some new families recently and they would like to join the other families already being funded by the WWGF to attend the event."

"The WWGF will be meeting up with the Potentials Foundation, to make it a once in a lifetime experience."

"Families will get to meet doctors and specialists from both medical review boards and learn about the latest research findings about the cause of primordial dwarfism."

The It's a Knockout event will take place on May 25 at Aintree Racecourse. It will cost £25 per person through teams of 10 people - with each team member asked to raise £50 through sponsorship. To enter a team can contact Sue on 07595 029150 or email sue.connerty@walkingwithgiants.org.

£110,000 Lotto prize unclaimed

Report by Ollie Cowan

A HUGE Lotto prize of more than £110,000 has yet to be claimed in Sefton.

National Lottery players in the borough are being urged to check and double-check their tickets for the chance to claim the prize of £110,079.

The winning ticket owner correctly matched five numbers and the bonus ball in the Lotto draw on Saturday, March 30.

The winning numbers were 8, 15, 24, 40, 43, 45 and the bonus ball was 33.

The lucky ticket-holder has until September 26 to claim their prize.

If nobody comes forward before the deadline, the prize money, plus all interest generated, will go to The National Lottery Good Causes scheme.

Amazing

A National Lottery spokesperson said: "We're desperate to find this mystery ticket-holder and unite them with their winnings."

"This amazing prize could really make a huge difference to somebody's life."

"We're urging everyone who bought a ticket in this area to check their old tickets again or look anywhere a missing ticket could be hiding."

"Try checking in the pockets of clothing, in wallets, bags and down the back of the sofa – someone out there could literally be sitting on a fortune."

"We have the champagne on ice and our fingers crossed that the lucky winner comes forward to claim their win."

Unclaimed prizes are not uncommon. Three separate prizes of £1million pounds, which were all won on Christmas Day 2012, have yet to be claimed.

Anyone who believes they have the winning ticket for any of the National Lottery draws should call them on 0845 910 0000 before the 180-day deadline.

Charity boxing night in aid of war veterans

A CHARITY boxing night in aid of war veterans takes place in Liverpool on Saturday night involving members of the emergency services.

A team of ten police officers, community support officers and special constables from Merseyside Police will take on the fire service and prison service at the Olympia in West Derby. The three teams will take part in 18 fights and proceeds from the £15-per-head event will go to the Veterans of War charity.

Detective Constable Paul Smith will captain the police team of male and female officers who work in all parts of the force area, including Liverpool, Sefton, Knowsley and St Helens.

He said: "This promises to be a great night in aid of a very worthy charity which is close to a lot of people's hearts." Entry can be paid on the door.

£100m will be lost in welfare handouts in Sefton, claims study

Report by David Raven

Report by Sheffield Hallam University reveals impact of benefit cuts on borough

SEFTON will be losing £100million in welfare handouts each year, according to a new study which lifts the lid on Government benefit cuts.

Figures released by Sheffield Hallam University reveal the estimated impact of benefit caps and welfare cuts mean the borough will be £100m worse off each year or £589 per working age adult.

Experts are now predicting that the gap between the North-South divide will widen over the coming years.

In Sefton, some 17,500 households will lose out on council tax benefit changes, which works out on average at £18 per working age adult or £3million in total.

The Bedroom Tax will affect some 3,800 people in the borough at a total cost of £3million or £16 on average per working age adult.

It is also estimated that changes to disability benefit will have a negative impact on around 3,000 people meaning that £9million will be lost each year.

Professor Steve Fothergill, of Sheffield Hallam's Centre for Regional Economic and Social Research, said: "A key effect of the welfare reforms will be to widen the gaps in prosperity between the best and worst local economies across Britain.

"Our figures also show the coalition Government is presiding over national welfare reforms that will impact principally on individuals and communities outside its own political heartlands."

Prime Minister David Cameron said: "Labour tested to destruction the idea that simply through larger and larger increases in the welfare bill you can heal the north-south divide. You can't."

"What Labour did is create a more welfare dependent country. We can't afford the state we have today, we need a smaller state and bigger private sector."

News from the Brooke

Dear friends and local residents... Hello again from us here at The Brooke Hotel

We hope you've all had a lovely weekend, the sun even made an appearance and that means it's almost beer garden weather.

We are very excited to announce THE SPEAKEASY BOOTLEG BAND will play on Friday 19th. From 8:45pm expect a heady mix of jazz, jive and Harlem swing with classy covers of the likes of Louis Armstrong, Cab Calloway and Dizzy Gillespie. This is a show that is sure to get your toes tapping. It doesn't stop there either, as on Sunday 21st we have Robert Southworth at 6pm. On Piano he will be playing a mixture of Classical, Pop and Jazz improvisation. This will be the first of what we hope will be many Piano acts for Sunday evenings. Thursday 25th THE DOGHOUSE Folk group return and will continue to play every last Thursday of the month from 8:30pm. Last but not least, Friday 26th is filled by local favourites MEADOWHEAD. An acoustic band, they have a unique mellow take on everything from 80's classics to modern rock with a healthy dose of folk, on stage at 8:45pm. So get yourself down to The Brooke and enjoy the talent at the fastest growing music venue in the area. You can now also follow us on Facebook by searching for 'Music at The Brooke Hotel' and giving the page a 'like'. Looking forward, May will see every Thursday a Folk music night and we will also be presenting acts on Saturdays. That's right, 4 days of live music. If you would like to play or there is someone you would like to see play, please call us or drop into The Brooke and let us know.

Maybe you're planning a family event or a group function. If so, please contact us to see what we can offer and remember that we're open as early as 8am for high-quality breakfasts (£6 for our Full English). Also our extensive International food menu is served from midday until 8pm with daily specials from our Chef.

From all of us at The Brooke Hotel, take care and we hope to see you soon.

Campaign urges use of law to combat stalking

Report by Stephanie O'Connor

TOMORROW (Thursday, April 18) is National Stalking Awareness Day and stalking charities are encouraging anyone in Sefton who deals with victims of stalking in a professional capacity to 'Know the Law, Use the Law.'

As part of the 'Know the Law, Use the Law' campaign, 30,000 posters and information leaflets are being distributed across the United Kingdom and a conference is being held in order to provide practitioners with knowledge and understanding about stalking.

It is almost five months since England and Wales introduced a specific offence of stalking, but according to the National Stalking Helpline, many of those who work in the criminal justice system are unaware of the new law and when it should be used.

Kristiana Wrixon, manager of the helpline, said: "This National Stalking Awareness Day we want to encourage those who work with stalking victims to improve their understanding and knowledge of the law with regards to this serious crime and to ensure victims are given the support they need and to which they are entitled."

"For this to be achieved training is essential and we would like to see training about stalking available for all those who work with

'Don't suffer in silence' call to victims

victims of stalking."

The new amendments to the Protection from Harassment Act 1997 create two new stalking offences; section 2A, stalking and section 4A, stalking that causes serious distress or fear of violence.

Section 4A carries a maximum sentence of five years in prison.

Rachel Griffin, director of the Suzy Lamplugh Trust which runs the helpline, said: "The law is there to protect victims of stalking so they do not need to suffer in silence."

"They need to know that when they approach the criminal justice system, what is happening to them is recognised as a crime and dealt with appropriately."

Businessman steps in to buy football kit for school pupils

John Owen of Technical Building Solutions with members of the football team Code NA

Report by Ollie Cowan

PUPILS at a school in Litherland are celebrating after a local businessman stepped in to donate a completely new football kit.

The previous squad uniforms at Lander Road Primary School were old and worn out but due to budget restrictions they could not afford new ones. As a result an appeal was launched by parents and teachers to find a potential sponsor.

John Owen of Technical Building Solutions, on Balfour Street, heard of the appeal and promptly paid for a brand new kit, a kit bag and new footballs for the school.

The equipment was then presented at an assembly and pupils have written to John to thank him for his generosity.

"Our new kits are excellent and we wore them with pride at our recent match," said Year Six pupil Lara.

"Our families and supporters thought we looked great and we are very pleased.

"We have always wanted a new kit as our old ones were torn and ripped and smelly.

"It was very kind of John to add the footballs as well! We are very grateful for his generosity.

"We hope to see him at our next match."

Let 'Insulated Solutions' conservatory roof systems, bring an unloved conservatory into the very heart of your home.

The problem with many conservatories is that they can get too hot in summer and too cold in winter.

This is because standard polycarbonate roofing, have virtually no insulating properties. Glazed roof conservatories fare little better and even roof blinds make little difference.

That's why Insulated Solutions have developed a state of the art conservatory roof insulation system, which can be installed in just one day.

It's cost effective and causes minimal disruption it fits into the existing structure and to put your mind at rest, we also provide a 10 year guarantee for all our work and insulated panels including materials and installation.

The Insulated Solutions insulated panels are supported by the government, who by means of approval of our system have reduced vat at 20% to 5% that's a saving of 15% in recognition of the benefits in saving using our products on energy bills.

If you are experiencing any of these conservatory roof problems, Insulated Solutions conservatory roof systems is what you need.

Law firm warns of discrimination fears against pregnant women

Report by Holly Rummens

A LOCAL law firm has warned of increasing levels of discrimination against pregnant woman.

Bosses at Maxwell Hodge Solicitors have seen numerous cases of woman being made redundant while on maternity leave, or being replaced by their maternity cover colleagues. And they are claiming that if woman do go back to work they have found that their job has changed significantly in their absence.

Heather Grant, employment lawyer at Maxwell Hodge said: "The Equal Opportunities Commission has estimated that 30,000 women lost their jobs due to pregnancy and that was before the recession. As a result of the recession, this kind of discrimination has taken on even more significance."

The findings by Maxwell Hodge are echoed in a recent study which revealed that one in seven mothers lost their job on maternity leave and half reported working hours being cut or being demoted.

Said Heather: "The law states it is illegal to dismiss or disadvantage an employee for reasons related to her pregnancy or maternity leave."

She added: "The cases we see are probably the tip of the iceberg when it comes to pregnancy discrimination. Only a tiny percentage of new mothers will take legal action, either because they aren't aware of their rights or just not in a position to invest the energy or money into pursuing a case. It's very hard to juggle a new baby and a Tribunal claim at the same time."

Former Everton player thanks Aintree hospital staff for saving his life

Report by David Raven

A FORMER Everton player who battled bowel cancer has thanked the staff from Aintree Hospital who saved his life.

This week Kevin Sheedy, who also made several appearances for Liverpool, met surgeon Paul Skaife who performed the life-saving operation last year.

Now the Everton Academy coach has signed up to an event to raise awareness of bowel cancer.

Focus on Bowel Cancer will provide information about the causes, symptoms and treatment options for bowel cancer. Kevin will join consultant surgeon, Paul Skaife to discuss his experiences of bowel cancer.

Early diagnosis of this cancer is crucial to successful treatment and this event will help guests to better understand this disease and the support available.

Since successfully battling bowel cancer, Kevin Sheedy has been raising awareness of the disease, supporting the Be Clear on Cancer campaign.

Kevin, 52, was diagnosed with bowel cancer in July 2012 after exhibiting symptoms including blood in his stools and a change in his bowel habits.

He went to see his GP and was

referred to Aintree University Hospital in Liverpool for further tests and treatment. It is believed that early detection of the cancer helped ensure effective treatment.

Currently, more than 570 people die from bowel cancer each year in Merseyside and Cheshire, which is above the national average.

Kevin said: "I can't thank the staff at Aintree enough for what they have done for me – it's only when you are in that position that you realise what an incredible job our health professionals do.

"I would urge anybody who has concerns to go immediately to their GP. My life has been saved through early detection."

Kevin added that while there is a history of the illness in his family – his mother died of bowel cancer two years ago and his father is currently in remission after an operation seven years ago – the diagnosis still came as a shock.

He said: "I don't think you can ever prepare yourself for that news. As a footballer I was fit and healthy, had a good diet and never smoked, but I guess it was in my genes."

Paul Skaife, consultant surgeon at Aintree University Hospital, treated Kevin and said: "People can often be embarrassed to talk about their bowel movements with their GP but it is so important to share any concerns you have. We are all delighted that Kevin's treatment was effective and this is in no small part down to the fact we caught the cancer early.

"The road to full recovery is a long one and we'll keep in touch with Kevin for the next five years to run tests and ensure the cancer isn't coming back."

According to NHS Choices, bowel cancer is the third most common type of cancer in England and affects more than 40,000 people each year. Around 72 per cent of people diagnosed with bowel cancer are over 65.

Focus on Bowel Cancer takes place on Wednesday, May 1, at 2.30pm in the Exhibition Hall of the Clinical Sciences Centre, Aintree University Hospital.

Spectacular opera staged at Empire

Review by Ron Ellis

•Bizet’s ‘CARMEN’ (ELLEN KENT OPERAS)
•LIVERPOOL EMPIRE THEATRE

ELLEN Kent is the lady who brought the Las Vegas touch to opera and ballet, opening them up to people who previously might have thought them too highbrow for their tastes. Over the past two decades, she has introduced animals, topless courtesans, birds of prey, lavish sets and extravagant costumes but never neglected the musical side, working with the best musicians, dancers and singers, taken from the orchestras and choirs of Eastern Europe. This current tour, playing major theatres and concert halls the length and breadth of Great Britain, has ‘Tosca’ running alongside ‘Carmen’ on alternate nights and features the Chisinau National Opera and Philharmonic Orchestra. The theatre was packed for ‘Carmen’, which was nothing less than spectacular with a white stallion onstage, a donkey, a chorus of children, colourful costumes and a set based on a flamboyant Goya painting. An English translation from the French was lit up on an overhead display.

The basic themes of love and passion, betrayal and jealousy are what have made this opera a lasting success plus, of course, the music with the famous ‘Toreadors Song’, as always, being the highlight of the show. International mezzo-soprano, Nadezdha Stoianoiva, made a seductive Carmen who entices the soldier, Don Jose (Sorin Lupa), to desert his regiment and leave his childhood sweetheart, the sweet and virginal Michaela (Ecatrina Danu), only to discard him in favour of the preening bullfighter, Escamillo (Iurie Gisca). Ellen Kent herself was in Liverpool for the show and, over a glass of wine at the interval, she told me how she had cut 30 minutes off the running time, “to keep it faster paced”. “The donkey you have just seen onstage is a rescue donkey,” she said, adding that her mother had run a sanctuary for donkeys and, at her shows, she had collected over £30,000 for donkey sanctuaries. “I have a big house near Canterbury in 15 acres with a giant swimming pool. I’m 64 now, perhaps I should retire.” But not quite yet. Already an Autumn tour is lined up featuring ‘Aida’, ‘La Boheme’ and ‘Nabucco’. Ellen Kent is likely to be around for a good while longer and her thousands of fans will be delighted. STAR RATING. 7 out of 10. Vibrant and spectacular.

Musical on way to Little Theatre

BIRKDALE Orpheus Society is set to return to the Southport Little Theatre next month with Carousel. The classic Rodgers and Hammerstein musical is an emotional roller-coaster of a ride filled with laughter, love, and life told through a thrilling tale of tragedy and triumph.

Music includes June Is Bustin’ Out All Over and You’ll Never Walk Alone. Carousel will run from Saturday, May 25 to Saturday, June 1 at the Little Theatre, including a matinee on the final day. Tickets start at £10 and advance sales are available now via 01704 564042.

Director of music at Cathedral to make first appearance in town

A MUSICAL event will take place this Saturday (April 20) when David Poulter, director of Music at Liverpool Cathedral, visits Southport to play a concert of music on the pipe organ. The event, held in Emmanuel Parish Church, Cambridge Road, is David’s first appearance in Southport and will play a programme of music on Emmanuel’s fine organ, built by Harrison and Harrison of Durham whose instruments are to be heard in Westminster Abbey, King’s College Cambridge and many English Cathedrals. David came to Liverpool in 2008 having previously served as Organist at Coventry and then Chester Cathedrals. Since then he has directed the Liverpool Cathedral choirs in a busy musical schedule which has included tours in Poland and Paris. He has travelled extensively, as a recitalist, and as a conductor, to France, Germany, and Holland. He will be playing in Texas in November this year. He has also appeared as a soloist with the BBC Philharmonic Orchestra conducted by Jan Pascal Tortelier. The concert begins at 7.30 and admission is £7, payable at the door. # Violin master to return to city

Report by Mike Dawber

THE violin master André Rieu is returning to the UK and Ireland with his brand new show following his tour in December 2012, which earned the number one spot in the Billboard magazine’s top tours chart beating runner up Justin Bieber to the top. André Rieu will be performing his new international tour named And The Waltz Goes On Tour at the Echo Arena Liverpool on December 22 and the newly announced date of December 13. Rieu already tweeted in December that he absolutely loved his 2012 UK tour. “Just back home. I absolutely loved the UK tour. Thank you to all audiences for giving us such great concerts,” he said. The maestro praised the British audience for their enthusiasm and added: “My Orchestra and I had a great time in December, we absolutely loved the UK tour. “Maybe it’s a bit odd to say, but in other countries you often hear that British people are restrained or not very emotional. But in fact, we experienced the complete opposite on our tour! The British audience gave us such a warm welcome... we are all really looking forward to coming back!” According to Rieu it all has to do with the music – particularly the Waltz: “Every night when I play around the whole world, I see with my own eyes what the waltz does with the audience. “People get out of their seats and waltz in the aisles spontaneously. Whether they’re Mexican, Australian, Canadian, German or British. They sing, they smile and for a moment they forget all their worries and are happy.

André Rieu Code NA

That is why this tour is an ode to the waltz!” The maestro has said he and his orchestra will perform beautiful waltzes on this tour. Rieu’s concerts are a mix of romantic, festive and emotional melodies combined with surprises, balloons, soloists and of course Rieu’s sense of humor. Tickets are on sale now and can be purchased at the Echo Arena box office on 0844 8000 400 or www.echoarena.com editorial@champnews.com

Show is not to be missed

Review by Ollie Cowan

• Save The Last Dance For Me
• Southport Theatre

SAVE The Last Dance For Me started its week long run at the Southport Theatre on Monday night (April 15) to a sell out crowd. Written by Laurence Marks and Maurice Gran (Goodnight Sweetheart, Birds of a Feather) and featuring the unmistakable music of Doc Pomus & Mort Shuman, the show was a innuendo filled feel-good journey, which is designed to transport you back to the 60’s. Set throughout the summer of ‘63, Save The Last Dance tells the story of two young sisters, Marie and Jennifer, embarking on a seaside holiday for the first time without their parents. Full of freedom and high spirits, the girls meet a handsome young American who invites them to a dance. However young love and holiday romance for both girls proves to be quite a challenge, and the sisters soon realise that while the world around them is still watching itself in black and white, life and love can be much more colourful.

Save the Last Dance for Me cast

Marie is the main protagonist, played brilliantly by Elizabeth Carter who stole the show with well delivered numbers including Teenager In Love, I Count The Tears and Please Mr Postman. Marie falls in love with a young black American soldier called Curtis (Kieran McGinn) and they both battle against racial oppression, sexism and social divides to make the most of their holiday romance. Marie’s sister Jennifer, played by Verity Jones, also made the stage her own as she portrayed the older, caring sister who faces her own love woes while trying to look out for young Marie. Kieran McGinn and Lee Honey-Jones played their parts brilliantly as the two American best friends Curtis and Milton. The duo drive the story forward and mirror the relationship of the sisters with great effect. Will the two sisters find true love, or is this just another holiday romance? You’ll have to go and see the show to find out. The audience on the night loved the constant sixties references to goods and radio shows of the time, whilst the musical numbers all hit the right note. By the end of the show people were dancing in the isles and many were wiping away a nostalgic tear. Credit must also go to the rest of the cast who supported the leads brilliantly. Joe McCourt especially, as the young actor stood in the for sadly indisposed Jay Perry to play the role of Sergeant Rufus. Choreography on the night was near perfect from Bill Deamer and you’d need to be eagle eyed to spot any mistakes in Mark Bailey’s set and costume design. Save The Last Dance is a great show which really should not be missed. 9/10

PRAYER

DEAR SACRED HEART OF JESUS

In the past I have asked for many favours. This time I ask for one special favour. (mention it)

Take it dear heart of Jesus and place it within your own broken heart where your Father sees it. Then in his merciful eyes it will become your favour, not mine.

Amen

Say this prayer for three days, promise publication and your favour will be granted. Never to be failed.

I.J.

HOLY SPIRIT

You, who make me see everything and show me the way to reach my ideals. You, who gave the Divine Gift to forgive and forget all that is done to me. I, in this short dialogue, want to thank You for everything and affirm once more that I never want to be separated from You no matter how great the material desires may be. I want to be with You and my loved ones in their perpetual glory. To that end, and submitting to God's Holy Will, I ask You (mention your request).

This prayer must be said for three consecutive days. After the third day the request will be granted no matter how difficult it may be. Promise to publish the entire dialogue as a condition of having your request granted.

A.W.

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

Never known to fail.

O most beautiful flower of Mount Carmel, faithful Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in this necessity, O Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother, O Holy Mary Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succour me in my necessity.

(Make Request).

There are none that can withstand your powers. Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 Times).

Sweet Mother, I place this cause in your hands (3 times).

Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine.

P.B.D.

This prayer must be said for three days and after that the request will be granted and the prayer must be published.

Brave fightback not enough to stave off defeat

Burnage 37
Firwood Waterloo 24

A TREMENDOUS second half fight back was just not enough to save weakened Waterloo from defeat going down 37-24 away to Burnage.

The damage however was done in the first half as the home side took a 24-3 lead through tries from Jonny Scholes, Stuart Oldham and Ross Winney all converted by the outside half who also slotted a penalty to a lone penalty from Liam McGovern.

However in the second period as the game began to swing in the visitors favour McGovern went over for a try to narrow the gap, a powerful run from Sean Gibney setting up a ruck from where McGovern dummied his way over from 15 metres out, the outside half also slotting the conversion.

Oliver Nevin went in for a second, running through an attempted tap tackle before beating a one on one defender, the try again converted by McGovern to bring his side to within a score but two penalties from Winney increase the home advantage once more.

Waterloo came again this time newcomer Alex Eatley with a brilliant solo effort off turn over ball on the half way line, McGovern's conversion keeping his side in the hunt at 30-24 but a try from Rob Wellock converted by Winney from the last play of the game sealed the win for the Cheshire side.

Coach blames lack of discipline for defeat

WATERLOO coach Jan Van Deventer criticised his players' lack of discipline after his team's defeat on Saturday.

"We certainly didn't start well and turned over far too much ball," confessed director of rugby Jan Van Deventer. "They had a big pack and with a number of our first line players missing we knew it was going to be a tough task.

"However we have only ourselves to blame as our discipline which we have been working on all season let us down, putting us on the wrong side of the referee and that was very disappointing.

"I was pleased with the way we came back in the second half and we scored three good tries," Deventer stated. "Yet when we got to within a score our discipline let us down again and we conceded two 'daft' penalties and with a kicker of Winney's calibre on the field you are always going to be punished.

"When we got back to 30-24 I thought we were still in with a 'shout' but that final try put the cap on what was a disappointing afternoon for us."

Waterloo are away to Lymm on Saturday in the final game of the season.

"Lymm is always a difficult place to go and we are under no illusions," Devented explained.

"However we hope to be back to more or less full strength with James O'Brien, Tom Holloway, Jack Weir and Alix Croft expected to return to the side."

Crunch match for Bucks

BOOTLE'S North West Counties Premier Division hopes suffered a blow when they were defeated 2-1 by Colne on Saturday while fellow title contenders Padiham and Runcorn Town both won.

The Bucks face a crucial match this weekend when they play leaders Runcorn away. Bootle are five points behind Runcorn, but with a game in hand. In another key match on the same day, second placed Padiham face third placed Maine Road.

Mariners draw a blank in the damp

Matlock Town 1
Marine 0

MARINE created chances on a miserably wet afternoon in Derbyshire but were unable to convert them, goals having dried up at a crucial time in the season with none scored in six of their last eight games.

The Gladiators carved out several presentable opportunities as well, winning the game by taking one of them whilst also twice hitting the woodwork.

Marine had the first chance of the day, Sean Doherty's shot clipping off a defender to put Stephen Johnson through with the winger's shot going straight at home gloveman Nick Buxton as he came off his line.

Massiah McDonald responded for Town when finding space on the left of the area, his powerful drive cannoning off the outside of the near post and away to safety.

Laurence Gaughan directed a header wide of the target from a James Ashmore free kick for Matlock before the Mariners had a fast break, Johnson feeding Doherty to put in a good cross for Will Jones to head at goal, Buxton again gathering safely.

McDonald brought a fine stop from Callum Williams in the Marine goal as half time beckoned, his angled drive being beaten away to keep the score at 0-0.

The Mariners fashioned a good opening early in the second half, Jones riding a tackle to set Johnson free on the right, with Buxton spreading himself well to block the shot.

Michael Ordish put a shot in to the side netting but it was the Gladiators who opened the scoring, Lavelle White pulling the ball back for substitute Joe Leesley to hammer a low shot inside the near post from the left of the area on 57 minutes.

White drove a shot over the bar before Leesley almost scored again, his free kick from out on the right bouncing off the top of the crossbar.

Marine had chances to equalise late on but couldn't hit the target from promising positions, Liam Rice and substitute Michael Brown driving wide from the edge of the box as the Gladiators' shield proved impenetrable.

Special admission offer for final home against title contenders

MARINE are making their final home match against Evo-Stik Premier Division title contenders North Ferriby United a special community day with reduced admissions, a schools penalty final and presentations of players awards.

The final of the schools penalty shoot-out tournament, sponsored by Jeeves the jewellers, between Great Crosby and St William of York primary schools will take place at half-time while and after the match in the clubrooms the end of season club and supporters' player awards will take place.

There will be free match admission for children aged 11 and under accompanied by an adult while a concessionary price of £5 admission is available to season ticket holders of Everton, Tranmere Rovers and Liverpool in addition to One Vision tenants.

Special guests to the game is a group from the Somali community of Liverpool who will be visiting Marine for the first time.

Marine chairman Paul Leary said: "The last home game of the season for Marine is always a community affair and this season there is a special interest because of the importance of the game and how the result could affect who is to win the Evo-Stik Northern Premier League.

"The admission concessions, penalty shoot-out final, player's awards after the game and the visit of our new friends from the Somali community of Liverpool all adds up to a really great day."

We don't say how good we are... our customers do!

Dear George,
I am writing to say how pleased we are with our new kitchen. The design is stylish yet practical and has made our kitchen look a lot bigger and brighter. Our requirements were all addressed in the initial plan and the suggestions made during the design stage by Vicky have worked really well. The fitter has done an excellent job. His work was to a very high standard, he was reliable, there was very little mess and the work was finished ahead of schedule. We were consulted throughout to ensure everything was as we wanted it. I would recommend 'Just Kitchens' to anyone planning a new kitchen

Yours sincerely,
K. Burns
